Superior Acne Treatment

The PicoSure Laser is a major breakthrough in treatment of acne scarring. It's results have been scientifically shown to be better than any other laser system for treating acne scarring.

The photo mechanical action causes LIOB (laser induced optical breakdown), in the epidermal layer of skin. This releases a number of factors that stimulate a repair response that remodels the scar with new collagen and elastin production, smoothing out the clumps of collagen that exist in acne-scarred skin, and increasing collagen in areas of collagen loss.
